56th year of continuous service to Rochester youth

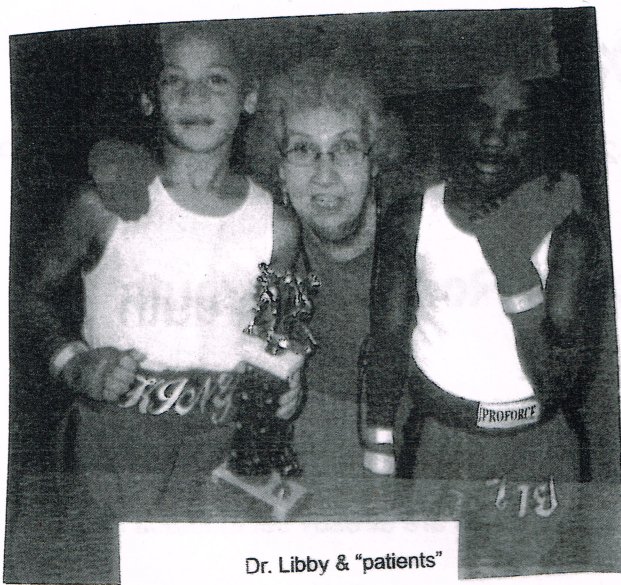

We finished the 2024 year at Buffalo, then started 2025 at Niagara Falls. Then we conducted the Region 1 Silver Gloves in Danvers, Massachusetts. Now we head to the Nationals heading the Region 1 team versus the other seven regions. Before leaving, some will enter the Golden Gloves starting 1/24 in Buffalo's beautiful Riverworks. March dates are already set in Ithaca and Watertown.

12/14: BUFFALO BOMBSQUAD: Two St. Martin boxers got on a 17 bout card before a nice crowd. They both opposed Bombsquad opposition. 65Brenden Davis scored a 3-0 decision over a tough Josef Dshloui. Brendon used good boxing skills and he appeared to take all three rounds. 201+Charles lost a decision to Jamal Lagurre in a good effort. Charles seemed to win the first round, the second was close, and Dshloui took the third. Charles continues to show improvement. Driving was great on a clear dry on the Thruway.

1/ 4: NIAGARA FALLS: Got the new year off with a usual good Ray Casal show. Only got one of three on the show. In a battle of two New York State Silver Gloves Champions, St. Martin's 101Champion Amazydnn Deesbullock opposed Oswego's 106Champion Kayliona Cook. Cook got the decision, but Amazydnn looked good in only her third ever bout. Good driving on Route 31 all the way and back. The Oswego team encountered snow east of Syracuse.

1/10-12:REGION 1 SILVER GLOVES CHAMPIONSHIPS: DANVERS, MASSACHUSETTS: The St. Martin run tournament went east into the New England part of Region 1. Competitors were state champions from New York, New England, Connecticut. and Rhode Island (included the rest of New England). Winners competed for the right to win national championships in Independence Missouri January 29 - February 1. Several Rochester area youth advanced. St. Martin's 65Brendon Davis, however, lost a narrow decision in the finals to Connecticut's Iman Abedini. The venue, the Double Tree Inn, had affordable reduced rates and competition was in the big ball room with two rings. A good effort by Masachusetts's OIC & venue organizer Steve Clark. Huge crowds. Lots of fun. Driving was clear both ways. A Rochester City van was used by the Jackson Center and St. Martin contributed gas.
